

CITY EMPLOYEES TO BOOST LOAN

Mayor and Cabinet Members Plan Co-operation in Campaign

WILL GO THE LIMIT

Women Will Be Admitted to Philadelphia's Four-Minute Men Organization

City employees will be expected to go the limit in supporting the fourth Liberty Loan and try to exceed their contributions in the last drive.

Necessity of the hearty co-operation of city workers was pointed out this afternoon at a conference between Mayor Smith, directors of city departments and prominent bankers who are working for the success of the loan campaign, which will open on Saturday.

John J. Henderson, of Henderson, Neuberger & Lock, explained the necessity for constant and sincere work on the part of all concerned, and the assembled directors promised that the city would make a showing which would surpass all previous efforts.

For the first time women are to be included in Philadelphia's organization of Four-Minute Men.

During the last Liberty Loan campaign several women spoke in theatres and public gatherings at the special request of the Four Minute organization or those in charge of the meeting. This time women who qualify will be taken into the committee and will be assigned as men are to speak in certain places.

There will be a tryout tomorrow afternoon for the women who have been invited to qualify for the organization and those who meet with the approval of the committee in charge will have their names added to the list of Four Minute Men.

The speakers' bureau for the women's Liberty Loan committee is receiving hundreds of calls and is making dates for its speakers several days in advance. Nearly 100 women have been thoroughly studying their subject and are ready to spread enthusiasm and news of the fourth Liberty Loan. They are attending a course of instruction given by Mrs. J. E. Owen Phillips, well-known lecturer at the Peirce School, 1420 Pine street, in order to be well fitted for their work.

Labor unions, with their more than 200,000 members, began today to organize for the fourth Liberty Loan campaign, following a rousing meeting yesterday at which fullest support to the drive was pledged. The meeting, at the Hotel Adelphi, was called by John J. Henderson, chairman of the committee on civic and religious organizations.

L. H. Parsons, director of the loan, said that Philadelphia went the highest of any city of its size on the third Liberty Loan. He asserted that on the coming loan, with a quota double that of the last loan, that there is a big job ahead and the people must buy bonds not to the extent of money they have in the bank, but to the extent that they can save in the next six months.

The Italians have selected October 12, Columbus Day, as the occasion for their demonstration. There will be a parade in the evening, and the committee has requested the Italian commissioner to assign to Philadelphia that day 200 Bersaglieri heroes who are now in this country.

Building Reviewing Stand Work on a reviewing stand at Broad and Pine streets was begun yesterday for the Liberty Loan pageant, that will accommodate 1000 people. Erection of another stand on north City Hall plaza is being contemplated.

The house-to-house canvass in South Philadelphia will be directed by Mrs. James M. Hazlett, representing the women's committee, and Judge John M. Patterson, head of the men's committee. The several hundred workers will be directed by sub-chief in each of the wards in that section of the city.

The "Victory Bell," which is a replica of the Liberty Bell, and which has been used throughout the country by the Pennsylvania Suffrage Association, has been placed at the disposal of the Liberty Loan Committee. This bell was instrumental in collecting $2,500,000 in Washington for the Third Liberty Loan. According to the principles of the Suffrage Association, the bell is not to be rung until justice is proclaimed throughout the country and until the boys come back from the front.

CALVIN M. MOORE DEAD

Merchant, Formerly With John Wanamaker, Dies Suddenly Calvin Montgomery Moore, president of Gibbons & Co., linen merchants of New York, died suddenly yesterday at Ashland field, during maneuvers of the East Orange Rifles, of which he was a member.

Mr. Moore lived at 23 Webster Place, East Orange, N. J. He was born in Philadelphia, fifty-three years ago, and was connected with John Wanamaker in business for many years.

J.B. Sheppard Sons

Buying Chic Undermuslins on a War Income

This store is peculiarly well equipped to serve you. Long years of specializing have taught us where to secure most serviceable materials to best advantage; how to produce exquisite style and perfect fit at prices you can pay without extravagance.

The collection includes suitable undergarments for the college girl and the boarding school miss.

- Gowns, $2.50, $2.75, $3.00
Low-Neck Gowns, $1.25, $2.00, $2.50
Hand-Made Philippine Gowns, $2.35, $2.50, $2.85
Envelope Chemise, $1.15, $1.25, $1.50
Special, $1.50
Corset Covers, 75c, 85c, $1.25
Knee Petticoats, 85c, $1.25, $1.50
Drawers, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00
Outing Flannel Night Gowns, $2.25, $2.50, $2.75
Wrappers—Albatross flannel or silk. Silk Underwear

War Chest Payments Due Oct. 1st

108 Chestnut Street

$500 FOR CAR THAT HIT MAN

Sons of Injured Port Richmond Resident Offer Reward A reward of five hundred dollars was offered today for the arrest of the motorists who struck James Ahern, 2352 East Allegheny avenue, in front of his home last night and left him lying in the street with injuries which may cause his death. The reward is offered by Ahern's sons.

Three men and two women were in the car which struck Ahern. The automobile was a black touring car of a late model.

Ahern, well known in Port Richmond and is the father of fifteen children. He has two sons in the service and two more are preparing to join the army.

Ahern has been an engineer on the Philadelphia & Reading Railway for fifty-three years and is said to be the company's oldest employe in point of service.

He is in the Northeastern Hospital. His condition is critical.

PROHIBITION SPEECH CHEERED BY DOCTORS

State Society Applauds President Van Sickle's Call for Action

The medical profession of the country was urged today to take a bold stand in favor of prohibition, by Dr. Frederick L. Van Sickle, president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, speaking at the sixty-eighth annual meeting of the organization at the Bellevue-Stratford.

"The time has come," he said, "when we should demand from Federal and State governments the enactment of laws necessary to stop the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages."

The delegates interrupted him to applaud loudly, when he declared, "Pennsylvania must get in line."

"For years," he said, "the medical profession has side-stepped a definite stand on the use of alcohol as a beverage, taking refuge in discussion of the physiological effects of liquor upon disease. The day for such discussions has passed."

The medical profession has no refuge, no encouragement, no trench to which it can retreat to escape taking an absolute stand. We should not drift along with the time, but rather should we boldly accept the responsibility. We can have no neutral ground in this great issue."

Dr. Van Sickle was the principal speaker of the opening session of the four-day convention. The attendance is the smallest in years because of the war, many members of the profession being in military service and others being kept away because of the increased work at home. The registration today was 250, about forty per cent of the usual attendance the first day. In former years more than 1000 delegates had attended the conventions.

An address of welcome on behalf of the Mayor was made by Director Wilmer Krusen, of the Bureau of Health and Charities. Dr. Frank C. Mammond, president of the Philadelphia Medical Society, also welcomed the delegates.

PENN WAR SCHOOL ATTRACTS More Than 3000 Apply for Student Army Training Corps

More than 3000 young men yesterday presented themselves at the University of Pennsylvania for examination for the students' army training corps.

The applicants came from all sections of the country. Major Charles T. Griffith, commanding officer, said he was deeply impressed by the spirit they displayed.

Professor Lightner Witmer and his assistants conducted psychological examinations in College Hall, and then the candidates were examined physically in the University Hospital.

According to Major Griffith, the University expected to have three regiments of twelve companies each with 100 men. These 2400 young soldiers will be officered by thirty-five men from Philadelphia, detailed by the War Department.

A perfect dinner demands Whitman's Salted Nuts, Favors, Bon Bons to harmonize with the table decorations 1716 Chestnut St.

Whitman's

Buying Chic Undermuslins on a War Income

This store is peculiarly well equipped to serve you. Long years of specializing have taught us where to secure most serviceable materials to best advantage; how to produce exquisite style and perfect fit at prices you can pay without extravagance.

The collection includes suitable undergarments for the college girl and the boarding school miss.

- Gowns, $2.50, $2.75, $3.00
Low-Neck Gowns, $1.25, $2.00, $2.50
Hand-Made Philippine Gowns, $2.35, $2.50, $2.85
Envelope Chemise, $1.15, $1.25, $1.50
Special, $1.50
Corset Covers, 75c, 85c, $1.25
Knee Petticoats, 85c, $1.25, $1.50
Drawers, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00
Outing Flannel Night Gowns, $2.25, $2.50, $2.75
Wrappers—Albatross flannel or silk. Silk Underwear

War Chest Payments Due Oct. 1st

108 Chestnut Street

BREWERS' UNIONS BACK TAGEBLATT

Own Stock, Says Witness at German Publishers' Trial

CASE NEARLY FINISHED

Handwriting Expert Identifies Papers Taken in Raid on Newspaper

Brewery workers' unions in this city owned stock in the Philadelphia Tageblatt, the German language newspaper, in which alleged seditious editorials and "news" articles appeared last year.

This testimony was given today at the trial before Judge Dickinson, in the United States District Court here of five men accused of violations of the espionage act. The accused men are Louis Werner, former editor-in-chief; Martin Barlow, former managing editor; and Peter Schaefer, Paul Vogt and Herman Lemke, president, treasurer and business manager, respectively, of the Tageblatt.

The trial will be unexpectedly brief, Owen J. Roberts, special government prosecutor, expecting to close his case this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Examination of witnesses today proceeded rapidly. William A. Gray, counsel for the defense, said the defense would occupy no more than a day. The case may go to the jury tomorrow afternoon or Thursday morning.

Secretary on Stand William Conrad, secretary of the Tageblatt corporation, said eighty shares of Tageblatt stock are owned by the United Brewery Workers' Association. The association also holds the first mortgage on the Tageblatt building.

Mr. Roberts asked Conrad if it wasn't true that all the beer drinkers local unions in this city owned Tageblatt stock. Conrad denied it.

The witness said there are 1000 outstanding shares of Tageblatt stock, par value $2.50 a share, but he never saw any list of stockholders. Vogt and Schaefer, he said, are officials of brewery workers' unions.

Additional evidence to show that Tageblatt editorials were written by Louis Werner was adduced from three employees of the newspaper. They were Otto Seiffert, Adolph L. Angerman and Richard Richter.

Circulation Testimony Employees of two newspaper distributing-services were called to establish proof of the Tageblatt's circulation. Several newspaper dealers testified to receiving copies of the paper.

The scant circulation of the Tageblatt outside this city was evidenced by testimony of Edward J. O'Connell, book-keeper of a newspaper distribution service. O'Connell said total postage charges for copies mailed out-of-town varied from thirty cents to forty cents daily.

Frederick Schroeder, editor of the New York Staats-Zeitung, identified clippings seized in the Tageblatt raid as clippings from the Staats-Zeitung. Edward H. Dilges, of the Philadelphia Gazette, identified news articles lifted here.

That there has been great increase in population and many visitors coming to Philadelphia has been especially noticed in this Establishment

Visitors are always welcome

It is generally recognized the best is invariably the lowest priced

Business Hours 10AM-4:30PM

WAR CHEST

Payment Due October 1st

It buys the boys the Red Cross doughnuts; and the Salvation Army doughnuts; the "Y," K. of C., Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. H. A. hospital-ity. Don't hold it back a single day.

WAR WELFARE COUNCIL 408 Chestnut Street, Phila.

The "New Service" Light

These artistic hand-decorated Candles and Bases merge both the Xmas holiday and patriotic spirit.

The stands are substantially made for permanent ornate purposes in old gold Italian design.

Total height of Base and Candle is 24 inches.

Forwarded in artistic gift box with unique four-color card and poem appropriate to the Boys in the Service.

At all good dealers or mailed postpaid direct

KAYALL STUDIOS 1522 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. $2.50

STOVE COAL NEED CANNOT BE MET

Lewis Says People Must Accept Egg-Pea Mixture

NORTH OF CITY SHORT

Philadelphia Will Have 45 Per Cent of Winter Supply Soon

Householders who declined to follow the suggestion of County Fuel Administrator Francis A. Lewis and accept a mixture of pea and egg coal, were warned this afternoon they would probably get no large sizes of anthracite until winter is well under way.

This is the best dealers can do, owing to the shortage of stove coal in this city, it was explained.

"Some householders have agreed to accept the mixture," said Mr. Lewis. "They now have their coal orders refused to do this. I simply want to say to this latter class that if they want coal they had better take the mixture, as it will be well on its way here before sufficient stove coal will reach Philadelphia to meet requirements."

The northern part of the city is the bad spot in the Philadelphia coal situation, which otherwise is good, Mr. Lewis said.

Thousands of householders in Fairmount, Chestnut Hill, Oak Lane, Fern Rock, Frankford, Manayunk, Westphaling and Torresdale have received little or no coal and their dealers have thousands of orders pending.

Several causes are assigned for this condition, according to Mr. Lewis. He explains that the city's coal needs have been supplied by sections and that this northern district is the last to receive coal.

Another reason he says is that there has been a great deal of building and the resulting increased population has led to a larger demand for coal, which has had to be adjusted. Still another reason is that the city receives the vast bulk of its total supply during the winter, says Mr. Lewis.

Will Relieve Condition Steps have been taken to supply the needs of these places, he said, and the condition will be relieved immediately. To take care of them, he explained, on September 12 he instructed shippers to deliver to coal yards in the northern district during the remainder of the month and the early part of October one-twelfth of the amount the yard received in the year 1916-17, plus 10 per cent.

As an example, he said, that if one-twelfth of a dealer's supply equaled 1000 tons, he would get 1100 tons. This, he said, should supply the immediate demands of dealer's customers.

Mr. Lewis promised that by October 15 per cent of the city's entire coal supply would be in the city. He based this estimate on the fact that on September 1, 27 per cent was stored. This he said was 7 per cent more than ever before.

Told to Be Patient In other parts of the city there are some houses without coal, especially those of persons who have moved to new neighborhoods and cannot receive coal from their old dealers because the long haul to the new home is forbidden.

It is the aim of the fuel administration to have two-thirds of the city's supply delivered by January 1, Mr. Lewis said, but nobody will have more than that amount then. He was confident every one would have coal before the winter months.

Popular Prices for Particular People Re: Afternoon Tea "Tired Time" with the modern woman means tea time, and nothing is more refreshing just then than a sip of one's favorite fragrant nectar.

So whether after the marriage or more trip, the afternoon stroll or the strenuous shopping session, Milady will find a protective refuge in Cheri's at the tea hour, there to enjoy a restful tea-tete over a steaming hot brewing of Oolong, Ceylon or Orange Peko drawn quite "To the Queen's taste."

Popular Prices for Particular People will prevail as the war-time economy of Cheri.

152 South 15th St. (New) 124 South 13th St. (Old)

CHERI INC. J. G. PATTON, President

To Hog Island via "Southwestern" On Moyamensing Ave. 35 Minutes from City Hall

Connecting with all southbound P. R. T. cars between 2d and 15th Streets

WAR CHEST

Payment Due October 1st

It buys the boys the Red Cross doughnuts; and the Salvation Army doughnuts; the "Y," K. of C., Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. H. A. hospital-ity. Don't hold it back a single day.

WAR WELFARE COUNCIL 408 Chestnut Street, Phila.

STOVE COAL NEED CANNOT BE MET

Lewis Says People Must Accept Egg-Pea Mixture

NORTH OF CITY SHORT

Philadelphia Will Have 45 Per Cent of Winter Supply Soon

Householders who declined to follow the suggestion of County Fuel Administrator Francis A. Lewis and accept a mixture of pea and egg coal, were warned this afternoon they would probably get no large sizes of anthracite until winter is well under way.

This is the best dealers can do, owing to the shortage of stove coal in this city, it was explained.

"Some householders have agreed to accept the mixture," said Mr. Lewis. "They now have their coal orders refused to do this. I simply want to say to this latter class that if they want coal they had better take the mixture, as it will be well on its way here before sufficient stove coal will reach Philadelphia to meet requirements."

The northern part of the city is the bad spot in the Philadelphia coal situation, which otherwise is good, Mr. Lewis said.

Thousands of householders in Fairmount, Chestnut Hill, Oak Lane, Fern Rock, Frankford, Manayunk, Westphaling and Torresdale have received little or no coal and their dealers have thousands of orders pending.

Several causes are assigned for this condition, according to Mr. Lewis. He explains that the city's coal needs have been supplied by sections and that this northern district is the last to receive coal.

Another reason he says is that there has been a great deal of building and the resulting increased population has led to a larger demand for coal, which has had to be adjusted. Still another reason is that the city receives the vast bulk of its total supply during the winter, says Mr. Lewis.

Will Relieve Condition Steps have been taken to supply the needs of these places, he said, and the condition will be relieved immediately. To take care of them, he explained, on September 12 he instructed shippers to deliver to coal yards in the northern district during the remainder of the month and the early part of October one-twelfth of the amount the yard received in the year 1916-17, plus 10 per cent.

As an example, he said, that if one-twelfth of a dealer's supply equaled 1000 tons, he would get 1100 tons. This, he said, should supply the immediate demands of dealer's customers.

Mr. Lewis promised that by October 15 per cent of the city's entire coal supply would be in the city. He based this estimate on the fact that on September 1, 27 per cent was stored. This he said was 7 per cent more than ever before.

Told to Be Patient In other parts of the city there are some houses without coal, especially those of persons who have moved to new neighborhoods and cannot receive coal from their old dealers because the long haul to the new home is forbidden.

It is the aim of the fuel administration to have two-thirds of the city's supply delivered by January 1, Mr. Lewis said, but nobody will have more than that amount then. He was confident every one would have coal before the winter months.

Popular Prices for Particular People Re: Afternoon Tea "Tired Time" with the modern woman means tea time, and nothing is more refreshing just then than a sip of one's favorite fragrant nectar.

So whether after the marriage or more trip, the afternoon stroll or the strenuous shopping session, Milady will find a protective refuge in Cheri's at the tea hour, there to enjoy a restful tea-tete over a steaming hot brewing of Oolong, Ceylon or Orange Peko drawn quite "To the Queen's taste."

Popular Prices for Particular People will prevail as the war-time economy of Cheri.

152 South 15th St. (New) 124 South 13th St. (Old)

CHERI INC. J. G. PATTON, President

To Hog Island via "Southwestern" On Moyamensing Ave. 35 Minutes from City Hall

Connecting with all southbound P. R. T. cars between 2d and 15th Streets

WAR CHEST

Payment Due October 1st

It buys the boys the Red Cross doughnuts; and the Salvation Army doughnuts; the "Y," K. of C., Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. H. A. hospital-ity. Don't hold it back a single day.

WAR WELFARE COUNCIL 408 Chestnut Street, Phila.

STOVE COAL NEED CANNOT BE MET

Lewis Says People Must Accept Egg-Pea Mixture

NORTH OF CITY SHORT

Philadelphia Will Have 45 Per Cent of Winter Supply Soon

Householders who declined to follow the suggestion of County Fuel Administrator Francis A. Lewis and accept a mixture of pea and egg coal, were warned this afternoon they would probably get no large sizes of anthracite until winter is well under way.

This is the best dealers can do, owing to the shortage of stove coal in this city, it was explained.

"Some householders have agreed to accept the mixture," said Mr. Lewis. "They now have their coal orders refused to do this. I simply want to say to this latter class that if they want coal they had better take the mixture, as it will be well on its way here before sufficient stove coal will reach Philadelphia to meet requirements."

The northern part of the city is the bad spot in the Philadelphia coal situation, which otherwise is good, Mr. Lewis said.

Thousands of householders in Fairmount, Chestnut Hill, Oak Lane, Fern Rock, Frankford, Manayunk, Westphaling and Torresdale have received little or no coal and their dealers have thousands of orders pending.

Several causes are assigned for this condition, according to Mr. Lewis. He explains that the city's coal needs have been supplied by sections and that this northern district is the last to receive coal.

Another reason he says is that there has been a great deal of building and the resulting increased population has led to a larger demand for coal, which has had to be adjusted. Still another reason is that the city receives the vast bulk of its total supply during the winter, says Mr. Lewis.

Will Relieve Condition Steps have been taken to supply the needs of these places, he said, and the condition will be relieved immediately. To take care of them, he explained, on September 12 he instructed shippers to deliver to coal yards in the northern district during the remainder of the month and the early part of October one-twelfth of the amount the yard received in the year 1916-17, plus 10 per cent.

As an example, he said, that if one-twelfth of a dealer's supply equaled 1000 tons, he would get 1100 tons. This, he said, should supply the immediate demands of dealer's customers.

Mr. Lewis promised that by October 15 per cent of the city's entire coal supply would be in the city. He based this estimate on the fact that on September 1, 27 per cent was stored. This he said was 7 per cent more than ever before.

Told to Be Patient In other parts of the city there are some houses without coal, especially those of persons who have moved to new neighborhoods and cannot receive coal from their old dealers because the long haul to the new home is forbidden.

It is the aim of the fuel administration to have two-thirds of the city's supply delivered by January 1, Mr. Lewis said, but nobody will have more than that amount then. He was confident every one would have coal before the winter months.

Popular Prices for Particular People Re: Afternoon Tea "Tired Time" with the modern woman means tea time, and nothing is more refreshing just then than a sip of one's favorite fragrant nectar.

So whether after the marriage or more trip, the afternoon stroll or the strenuous shopping session, Milady will find a protective refuge in Cheri's at the tea hour, there to enjoy a restful tea-tete over a steaming hot brewing of Oolong, Ceylon or Orange Peko drawn quite "To the Queen's taste."

Popular Prices for Particular People will prevail as the war-time economy of Cheri.

152 South 15th St. (New) 124 South 13th St. (Old)

CHERI INC. J. G. PATTON, President

To Hog Island via "Southwestern" On Moyamensing Ave. 35 Minutes from City Hall

Connecting with all southbound P. R. T. cars between 2d and 15th Streets

WAR CHEST

Payment Due October 1st

It buys the boys the Red Cross doughnuts; and the Salvation Army doughnuts; the "Y," K. of C., Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. H. A. hospital-ity. Don't hold it back a single day.

WAR WELFARE COUNCIL 408 Chestnut Street, Phila.

STOVE COAL NEED CANNOT BE MET

Lewis Says People Must Accept Egg-Pea Mixture

NORTH OF CITY SHORT

Philadelphia Will Have 45 Per Cent of Winter Supply Soon

Householders who declined to follow the suggestion of County Fuel Administrator Francis A. Lewis and accept a mixture of pea and egg coal, were warned this afternoon they would probably get no large sizes of anthracite until winter is well under way.

This is the best dealers can do, owing to the shortage of stove coal in this city, it was explained.

"Some householders have agreed to accept the mixture," said Mr. Lewis. "They now have their coal orders refused to do this. I simply want to say to this latter class that if they want coal they had better take the mixture, as it will be well on its way here before sufficient stove coal will reach Philadelphia to meet requirements."

The northern part of the city is the bad spot in the Philadelphia coal situation, which otherwise is good, Mr. Lewis said.

Thousands of householders in Fairmount, Chestnut Hill, Oak Lane, Fern Rock, Frankford, Manayunk, Westphaling and Torresdale have received little or no coal and their dealers have thousands of orders pending.

Several causes are assigned for this condition, according to Mr. Lewis. He explains that the city's coal needs have been supplied by sections and that this northern district is the last to receive coal.

Another reason he says is that there has been a great deal of building and the resulting increased population has led to a larger demand for coal, which has had to be adjusted. Still another reason is that the city receives the vast bulk of its total supply during the winter, says Mr. Lewis.

Will Relieve Condition Steps have been taken to supply the needs of these places, he said, and the condition will be relieved immediately. To take care of them, he explained, on September 12 he instructed shippers to deliver to coal yards in the northern district during the remainder of the month and the early part of October one-twelfth of the amount the yard received in the year 1916-17, plus 10 per cent.

As an example, he said, that if one-twelfth of a dealer's supply equaled 1000 tons